

BRYAN'S FAVORITES BEATEN, GOV. MARSHALL NOMINATED AS WILSON'S RUNNING MATE

Convention Winds Up With Everybody Shouting for Victory—Nebraskan in "Valedictory" Says He Will Work Hard for Ticket.

BY MARTIN GREEN.

(Staff Correspondent of The Evening World.)

BALTIMORE, July 3.—For the first time since 1892 the Democratic hosts are departing to-day from a national convention without carrying bitterness and resentment likely to have an effect at the polls.

In 1896 the gold men went away from Chicago sore at Bryan. In 1900 the Eastern delegates went away from Kansas City sore at Bryan. In 1904 the Western and Southern delegates went away from St. Louis sore at Parker. In 1908 the delegates generally kissed their chances of success goodbye as they nominated Bryan.

To-day the Democrats are leaving Baltimore for their homes united on Wilson and Marshall. There has been no bitterness or warfare in the convention which closed shortly before 2 o'clock this morning, but there are no traces of scars of battle. Although William Jennings Bryan landed his candidate for the Presidency, and landed his platform, and dominated the convention, his opponents take some satisfaction in the fact that he did not get the nomination himself, and that he favored two candidates for the Vice-Presidency over Gov. Thomas R. Marshall, who landed the nomination without any particular trouble.

Bryan has promised to work for the ticket as hard as the candidates can possibly work. Tammany Hall has pledged itself to the support of Wilson and Marshall. Delegates from all parts of the country openly expressed themselves on the floor of the convention hall as satisfied with the candidates and the platform. Harmony, which was lacking when the convention opened eight days ago, has grown out of strife.

NO FREER CONVENTION EVER HELD.

No more open and free convention, untrammelled by parliamentary rules or order of procedure, has ever been held by any party. Every delegate was allowed to say what he pleased and when he pleased, until at the close of the proceedings time became an important factor and time would not listen to speeches. At times it appeared the managers of the convention were bringing in orators off the street.

Mr. Bryan was at all times a commanding figure. Senator Ollie James the Permanent Chairman, is his friend and admirer. There was no time when Mr. Bryan could not break into the proceedings, and he never hesitated to break in when he saw a chance of impeding being imposed to his programme.

The windup of the convention in the early hours of this morning was tame. Seven days of work in a convention hall had taken the vim and ginger out of the delegates, and only a few spectators were on hand to see the finish. For a short time it looked as though there might be a tie-up on the Vice-Presidential nomination, but the Democracy was united, and Marshall, being the candidate desired by the Wilson people, was selected against the wishes of Mr. Bryan who would have preferred a more radical candidate.

At the opening of the session last night Vice-Presidential nominations were made. Gov. John Burke of North Dakota, Gov. Marshall of Indiana, Senator George E. Chamberlain of Oregon, J. H. Preston, Mayor of Baltimore, and Elmore Hurst of Illinois were formally presented for the honor. Then the roll call was deferred to allow of the adoption of the platform. This being accomplished, many resolutions thanking everybody and lauding Baltimore were introduced and passed.

It was midnight when the proceedings looking to the selection of a Vice-Presidential candidate were put in motion again. A delegate from the District of Columbia, which consistently voted for Champ Clark to the last ballot, placed William Jennings Bryan in nomination. He thought it was a good joke. So did the convention. There was much laughter as Mr. Bryan with his face set and eyes smoldering made his way to the platform and turned the tables on the jokers. Mr. Bryan said:

MR. BRYAN DELIVERS HIS "VALEDICTORY."

"Mr. Chairman and Members of the Convention: You have been so generous with me in the allowance of time that I had not expected to transgress upon your patience again; but the compliment that has been paid me by the gentleman from the District of Columbia justifies, I hope, a word in the form of a valedictory. (Applause.)

"For sixteen years I have been a fighting man. Performing what I regarded as a public duty, I have not hesitated to speak out on every public question that was before the people of the nation for settlement, and I have not hesitated to raise the hostility and the enmity of individuals where I felt it my duty to do so in behalf of my country. (Applause.)

"I have never advocated a man except with gladness and I have never opposed a man except in sadness. (Cheers and applause.) If I have any enemies in this country those who are my enemies have a monopoly of hatred. There is not one single human being for whom I feel a hatred. (Applause.)

"Now is there one American citizen in my own party or in any other that I would oppose for anything except I believed that in not opposing him I was betraying the interests of my country which I hold above any person. (Applause.)

"I recognize that a man who fights

TAMMANY'S BACK, IN RAGE AT BRYAN, BUT FOR NOMINEE

Weary Leaders Unite in Predicting Victory for Wilson and the Ticket.

HEARST FALLS IN LINE.

He Will "Die Game" and Support Candidate—Dix Bitter at "Peerless Leader."

The harmony hosts of the Democratic party came boiling into town to-day, shouting the names of Wilson and Marshall and proclaiming their enthusiasm for a ticket that had been wrought as pure gold from the melting pot of discord. Tammany leaders of high and low degree, State leaders and National Committee men expressed themselves as all of one mind on the final selection of his two Democratic Governors to lead the party to victory at the polls in November.

Travel-stained and weary, many of them wilted and hollow-eyed, there was still enough ginger left in their systems to join in the general joyfest and utter their certainties of party success. Even William Randolph Hearst wore the wistful smile of one who can struggle to say "I die game and will support the nominee." Mr. Hearst is not yet able to pronounce the name Wilson without a catch in the throat.

Charles F. Murphy, with Thomas F. Smith, Secretary of the Fourteenth street organization, and Phil Donohue got home early this afternoon. They came on the Baltimore and Ohio and crossed to Twenty-third street, where some of the faithful were waiting.

MURPHY PREDICTS A DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL VICTORY.

Former Sheriff Nick Hayes was with Mr. Murphy, who, after attending to some business that had accumulated in his absence, took the 3:57 train on the Long Island for Good Ground, where he will spend the Fourth. He said the Wilson ticket would win in November. United States Senator James A. O'Gorman, who is now located upon as the Democratic State leader because of his staunch advocacy of Gov. Wilson, returned to Washington. His office associates said that he would probably remain there for several days. John B. Stanchfield, another Wilson delegate of the New York contingent, got back this morning and went at once to his country home at Islip, L. I.

Several trainloads from Baltimore came in over the rail of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and among the first to arrive was Col. George Harvey, editor of Harper's Weekly. Supreme Court Justice Daniel Cohan was close upon his heels.

Asked if he had anything to say concerning the nomination of Gov. Wilson, Col. Harvey replied by asking:

"But who was nominated for Vice-President?"

TAMMANY LEADERS ARE NOT VERY GARRULOUS.

He was informed that Gov. Marshall had been placed on the ticket, whereat he grunted and hurried on his way. Justice Cohan was just as garrulous as Col. Harvey, but on their way up from Baltimore it is said they agreed to join the harmony hosts, if not vociferously at least with a taciturn enthusiasm.

The Massachusetts delegates who stood out against Wilson, and who were unanimous in declaring that they were now in the fight for Wilson and Marshall and would stay in it till the polls closed on Election Day.

"We stood by Gov. Foss till the landslide came," said one delegate, "and then we got aboard the band wagon with a whoop."

Mr. Hearst said, when he was persuaded to talk:

"As I have already said, I went to Baltimore hoping that Champ Clark would be nominated, but determined to support any progressive candidate and platform. I will support Mr. Wilson."

"I think we will win," he added. "I'm almost positive of it."

He said he had enjoyed himself at the convention and was satisfied at the result. He was in excellent humor and said he would issue a full statement later.

John A. Dix returned on a later train, accompanied by Mrs. Dix. They were in August Belmont's private car, Mineola, Belmont and his party changed at Manhattan Junction, N. Y., to see through to Hempstead, L. I., but the car was placed at the disposal of the Governor and Mrs. Dix until the Pennsylvania station.

Gov. Dix greeted the newspaper representatives, and when asked for an expression of opinion was evidently prepared to give it. He was apparently much thoughtful, and it developed he was particularly bitter against William Jennings Bryan.

"It was the progressive element in the Democratic party that won," he said. "The New York delegation was much misunderstood and completely misrepresented by Bryan. The truth is, the New York delegation was representative of the Cleveland line of Democrats, and stood by Gov. Harmon because of this."

"FAVORITE SONS" SUPPORTERS ALL FOR WILSON NOW.

"When it was impossible to nominate Harmon the New York delegation turned naturally to Champ Clark, because Clark had a majority of the votes in the convention at the time. In my opinion, and I am sure in the opinion of all open-minded Democrats, Woodrow Wilson, Governor of New Jersey, will retain among the millions of his supporters on election day all the rank and file of those Democrats who stood in Baltimore for favorite sons, and there were apparently many of them.

"In my opinion Gov. Wilson is the strongest candidate the Democracy could put forward in this national crisis. Certain it is he will be an excellent candidate on whom all elements of the Democracy can harmonize."

"Bryan should be eliminated from the party. His characterization of the New York delegation was untrue, ungracious and extremely imprudent. He trailed the party through the mire with a canker of selfishness eating it. He sold the truth to save the hour."

"Bryan should be the last man in the world to attack the predatory interests, because there was not a Democrat at all prominent in the party who did not contribute to the candidacy and the support of Bryan in one or more of the campaigns when Bryan himself was the candidate for the Presidency."

"In order to win and at the same time retain the admiration of all Democrats, Gov. Wilson should rid himself of the brand of Bryan."

"We delegates from New York State went down there as progressives, with only the good of the Democracy at heart, despite any statement to the contrary."

In response to a query concerning the New York gubernatorial ticket, Gov. Dix said, "I think I am entitled to a nomination. Considering the present situation it appears certain that the Democratic State ticket will again be elected."

CAMPAIGN PLANS LEFT TO WILSON BY THE COMMITTEE.

BALTIMORE, July 3.—Gov. Wilson will determine the direction of his own campaign, pass upon the desirability of appointing a campaign committee and confer with a sub-committee of the National Committee on the nature of the offices of the New Democratic National Committee.

This was the sense of the members of the new National Committee which met to-day, and after continuing the offices of the old committee in power until a permanent organization was effected, assigned a sub-committee of five, consisting of Christian Mack, Secretary Woodson and three other committeemen to consider with Gov. Wilson on the permanent organization of the new committee.

It was stated in committee meeting that the continuance of the retiring of the office until a permanent organization was perfected was agreeable to Gov. Wilson.

A protest by William O'Shaughnessy of Rhode Island against the seating of National Committee men George F. Green from that State was overruled by the committee. It was held that since the convention had certified the members of the committee the meeting as named must be accepted.

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, July 3.—The greatest pitchers' battle of the season was staged at the Polo Grounds this afternoon, when Babe Marquard and Nap Rucker, the premier south-paw of baseball, went to the mat in the first game of a double-header. Up to this time both of them had been practically invincible. The result of the battle meant more to Marquard, however, than it did to the Brooklyn star, as on this game depended Marquard's chance of breaking all pitching records by winning nineteen straight games.

The fans evidently had sensed the importance of the contest, and the Polo Grounds was packed to the rafters.

MADAM! IF YOU DON'T FEEL RIGHT TAKE DELICIOUS "SYRUP OF FIGS."

Waste-clogged bowels, torpid liver and decaying food in stomach cause the sick headache, gas, backache, sallowiness, biliousness and indigestion.

All women get bilious, headache and constipated—simply because they don't exercise enough. They don't eat coarse food, or enough fruit and green vegetables. These are nature's way of keeping the liver and thirty feet of bowels active; but very few women employ them. The next best way is delightful, Fruity Syrup of Figs.

Nearly all ills of women can be overcome with Syrup of Figs alone. There is no need to have sick headache, backache, dizziness, stomach sour and full of gas, bilious spells, sallowness, coated tongue, bad breath, yellow eyes, constipation, nervousness and depression. The surest and safest remedy is one or two teaspoonfuls of delicious Syrup of Figs. Try this to-night—you'll feel splendid in the morning when the sour bile, clogged up waste and poisonous matter have been gently but thoroughly moved on and out of your system, without nausea, griping or weakness. Your head will be clear, complexion rosy, breath sweet, stomach regulated; no more constipation, gases, pains and aches.

It is simply a matter of keeping your stomach, liver and bowels clean and regular. Then you will always be well—always look and feel your best.

But get the genuine—the old reliable, Ask your druggist for Syrup of Figs and Elsie of Seneca." Refuse, with contempt, the so-called Fig Syrups some times substituted to fool you. The true, genuine, bears the name California Fig Syrup Company; look for this on the label.

front of the plate, but Meyers hesitated for a second about throwing to second and it was then too late to get his man at first. Miller lined a long single into left, but Becker made a great throw to the plate and Hummel had to stop at third. AMERICANS ADD TO STRING OF OLYMPIC VICTORIES.

Gleason of Boston and Graham of Chicago Win in Individual Clay Bird Shoot.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, July 2.—The individual competition in the clay bird event in the Olympic games was continued to-day when the second stage was concluded. The best aggregate score in the first and second rounds were made by the Americans, A. F. Gleason, Boston A. A., and J. A. Graham of the Chicago A. A., with 47 out of a possible 50 birds. The German, Constantin, Goeden, with 41 hits, was third. The third stage will be shot to-morrow.

Sweden was victorious in to-day's team competition for dual shooting at a distance of 30 metres. The Swedish team of four men made an aggregate of 143 points out of a possible 150, each man firing 30 shots. Russia and Great Britain were placed second and third respectively, while the United States has to be satisfied with fourth place, having obtained an aggregate of only 108.

The best individual score in the competition, however, was registered by the American, A. P. Lane, who made 202 points.
